Nearly $2,000 When Storage Shed Is Destroyed

MARION, Feb. 5.—Fire destroyed a storage shed and contents, including two automobiles and farm machinery, on the farm of Frank Sager, south of Marion, about 9:30 o'clock last night.
Loss of the building is estimated at

"First Questions" Used As Topic for Sermon

The Rev. W. C. Graves, evangelist at Calvary Evangelical church, based his sermon last night on the questions asked of the first man, the first woman, the first boy, and Elijah:
"Where art thou?" "What is this thou hast done?" "Where is thy father?" and "What doest thou now?"

At the Monday night service there were three responses to the altar invitation, and last night one response was made.

EFFORTS of the National Boxing association to clear up the wrestling situation throughout the country is being watched by followers of the game here. The latest step taken by the association is to officially determine the wrestling championship.

For the heavyweight championship, the N. B. A. has paired John Pesek, Cleveland, Ohio, and Jim London, Philadelphia. They were the only two men to qualify in that division.

Pesek is rated as one of the greatest wrestlers of this age. Experts are expecting him to walk off with the championship in an easy fashion. He only handicap is that he weighs but 190 pounds. He usually concedes his opponents from 15 pounds upward.

Sonnenberg and Shikat failed to qualify for the tournament. They claim to be the wrestling champions. Sonnenberg holds the title in Massachusetts while Shikat is recognized in New York and Pennsylvania.

As a result of the N. B. A. pairing both Sonnenberg and Shikat are out of wrestling as far as the 22 states controlled by the association are concerned. To be reinstated the pair will have to meet the winner of the Pesek-London clash.

Pinkie Gardner, who is well known in Marion wrestling circles, has been matched in the light heavy class with Joe Bonasick. The winner will wrestle Hugh Nichols for the title.

Gus Kallio and Ralph Carner were drawn to meet in the first middleweight contest. Ray Carpenter of Lancaster meets the winner for the crown.

Chas. Grip and Jack Higgins were the only qualifiers for the welterweight crown. They will wrestle for the championship. Grip has appeared in the Marion ring several times.

NORTH Central Ohio league baseball games which took place in the name that is played in some of the other leagues. That was the attraction today after they had been out of a series of victories over teams in the Little Big League. The league was defeated Sunday and now looks for a victory over the Crawford county team, by the way, has not won a single N. C. O. contest.

THE public likes to get fooled. That seems to be the only conclusion to draw as Primo Carnera continues to draw "on" in from all sorts of places. His "boxing" exhibition in Chicago last night was a success.

It started out with Art Sirota, the Chicago baseball player took a time at the ring game and appeared in some questionable bouts. Fans paid good money to see a poor exhibition of boxing.

Now the Italian man mountain is boxing them over even though he has two fights have failed to last a full round. He will continue to draw big crowds until the boxing commission decides to ban his appearances in this country. He is not a great fighter but his size seems to scare his opponents half to death.

BUILDING BURNS ON SAGER FARM

LaRue Farmer Suffers Loss of Nearly $2,000 When Storage Shed Is Destroyed

MARION, Feb. 5.—Fire destroyed a shed and contents, including two automobiles and farm machinery, on the farm of Frank Sager, south of town about 9:30 o'clock last night. Loss of the building is estimated at $1,500 and the contents $500. The building was used as a storage house. The LaRue fire department responded to the call but the blaze had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building or contents. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

HOMECOMING HELD

Delaware Entertainer Is Feature of Radnor Grotto Program

Don Fuller, of Delaware, a character actor and comedian, furnished the entertainment for the annual homecoming meeting held by the Radnor Grotto at the Masonic Temple last night. Approximately 100 were present, including both the local and out-of-town members.

Following the program, an oyster supper and smoker was enjoyed. Arrangements for the event were in charge of W. Don Davis, Amos L. Corral and Charles Bloomingdale. Arrangements were made to give some entertainment the last of this month.

"First Questions" Used
As Topic for Sermon

The Rev. W. C. Graves, evangelist at Calvary Evangelical church, based his sermon last night on the question asked of the first man, the first woman, the first boy, and Elijah: "Where art thou?" "What is this that thou hast done?" "Where is thy brother?" and "What doest thou here?"

At the Monday night service there were three responses to the altar invitation, and last night one response was made.

"Romeo and Juliet" Burlesque Written for Wednesday Night Radio Offering

Famous Comedy Pair Cast for Roles in Romantic Balcony Scene

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE, master playwright, is due to make three complete revolutions in his grave. For the pen is to be snatched from his quiet slumber, by the mysterious "Romeo and Juliet" burlesque, and when the Philo-Har is heard at 10 o'clock Wednesday night over the Columbia network, his cherished balcony scene staged as it has never been staged before.

For Juliet will be played by none other than Fanny Brice, foremost comedienne of the stage. And the gentleman who will show Shakespeare how he should have written his play is Milt Gross, one of the best-known humorists of the day. The role of Romeo will be taken by Billy Henry Burris, author of "Loving Joe" and recipient of many national weekly than any other Columbia star.

Gross has written a hilarious burlesque on the romance of the two most famous lovers in history, and Henry M. Neely, Philo's "Old Stager," feels that he has chosen the perfect interpreters of the two roles in bringing Burris and Fanny Brice to the air.

Included in the program will be Miss Brice's new song, "When a Woman Loves a Man," which succeeds "My Man," the song that made her famous. Her rendition of the number on the Philo program will be the first time the song has been heard over the air. It is featured as the theme song of Miss Brice's forthcoming United Artists talking and singing film, "Be Yourself," and was written by Ralph Rainger and Billy Rose, who is the gentleman to whom Miss Brice is married. Although the burlesque will occupy a prominent place on the Philo program, lovers of Gounod's opera will have the opportunity of hearing the most beautiful portions of the work. For Neely has woven the musical passages into the script. The orchestra will be under the direction of William Artiz.

SHAKESPEAREAN ROLES MADE OVER

FANNIE BRICE AND HENRY BURRIS

Vocal Solo Featured on LaPalma Program

"DUEX SERENADES" by Leon Cavallini, composer of such well-known operas as "Zaza" and "Pagliacci," will be featured by Miss J. LaPalma, radio soprano, at the next LaPalma Smoker at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night over the Columbia network. Popular dance tunes will be rendered by the orchestra.

"EAST OF CAIRO" ON RADIO

DEFTING Rudyard Kipling, West greets East in a new adventure series, entitled "East of Cairo," in which the exploits of two young American soldiers of fortune are to be presented by the WEAF network at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The musical background will be directed by Sven Van Dullberg, whose adventures in the near East are stranger than fiction.

CLASSICAL POPULAR SONGS MARK PROGRAM

"SERENADE" by Toselli, brings classical flavor to the program of popular dance tunes and novelty numbers which the Yeast Foamers will broadcast from the WJZ network at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. Clarence Harrison, tenor, Lee Sims, pianist, and Harry Koenig and his 14-piece orchestra will present the program.

STORY OF MISS PAIR ON RADIO BROADCAST

A LOVER who has been lost for a many years returns to a sweetheart who has, in turn, learned to enjoy her dreams of lost love, and hesitates to surrender those dreams for reality, are some of the problems in the Eternal Question drama to be presented through the WEAF network at 7:45 o'clock Wednesday night. The story tells of the famous Miss Lutz, who was once quite a belle and still holds a cottage of that beauty, but whose lover went away and did not return.

"OLD COUNSELLOR" SUGGESTS INVESTMENT REGULATIONS

"THE Dangers of Rule-of-Thumb Investing" will be discussed by the "Old Counsellor" on the Halsey, Stuart program which will be heard from coast to coast at 9 o'clock Wednesday night over the WEAF network. The Chicago Little Symphony orchestra, under the direction of George Dasek, will assist in the program.

SYLVANIA FORESTERS ON WEDNESDAY PROGRAM

JOHN LOWELL, the Virginian pianist, whose recitals have been a feature of the national concert stage, is the composer of "Merry Go Round," from his "At the Fair" suite which Bernice Altschuler and his orchestra will play during the Sylvania Foresters' program to be broadcast over the WJZ network at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

POPULAR TUNES ON PALMOLIVE HOUR

"YOU DO SOMETHING TO ME," from "Fifty Million Frenchmen," leads a group of old and new melodies which Gustave Haenschen has arranged for the Palmolive Hour to be heard from coast to coast over the WEAF network at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night. Olive Palmer, soprano, will be featured.

SCHOOL BUS DRIVER
INSURANCE IN DOUBT
Ruling Sought To Decide Question Regarding Workmen's Compensation
Whether county school bus drivers are eligible to collect workmen's compensation for injuries sustained while on duty is a question that is bothering Marion county officials. To settle the question prosecuting attorney Alfred Bonithen has requested a ruling from the state industrial commission. The ruling will be turned over to County Auditor Earl E. Thomas, from whose office the industrial compensation premium is paid for county, township, city and village and school employees.
The question involved is whether school bus drivers who own their own machines under contract with boards of education for transportation of pupils are bona fide employees of school boards and whether they are entitled to claim compensation in case of injury while on duty. Although the savings would be small county officials do not propose to pay industrial compensation premiums for school bus drivers in case they are not entitled to draw compensation for injuries.
Industrial compensation premiums are based on payrolls for employees of the schools, the county, the villages and the city of Marion. The rate varies with each district and is based on the number of claims filed in past years.
The townships will pay one and one-half per cent of their payrolls as compensation premium. The schools will pay one-tenth of one per cent. Villages will pay two per cent, the county will pay one and one-half per cent and Marion city will pay three per cent. These are the rates for 1930, according to a communication recently received from the commission by County Auditor Thomas.

MARION COUNTY NOT IN LIST OF CLAIMS
Reports No Industrial Accident Compensation Accounts for December Although 29 claims for industrial compensation were filed with the state industrial commission during December, 1932, none of them came from Marion county, according to a communication received today by Fred R. Schmitt, superintendent of the state city employment agency here, from the commission.
The 29 claims last December are eight more than were filed in November and four more than were filed December a year ago. Industrial commission records show.
Union county was one of the five counties in the state in which no industrial fatalities occurred during 1932. The other counties were Adams, Brown, Holmes and Paulding. All other counties in the state reported fatal industrial accidents during the year, commission records show.

OF NAMING LEADERS
Executive Committee Chaired To Be Selected for County Campaign Besides the job of silently engineering the right candidates into the primary race the two major political parties here have another task on their hands. That is the selection of executive committee chairmen to lead their respective campaigns for county offices next fall.
For the last two years R. E. Preitman, former president of the city council, has stood at the helm of the Republican executive committee. Attorney J. W. Jacoby has served as chairman of both the executive and central committees of the county Democratic organization.
Both were elected to their present positions preceding the last presidential campaign. Their two year terms are due to expire before the next campaign swings into its full stride.
Republicans will also have to select or find a successor to Avery M. Davis, chairman of the county central committee. Davis was also made committee chairman two years ago when plans for the presidential campaign were getting under way. He is now serving as deputy county treasurer under Treasurer Bert J. Shelton.
Although the spirit of politics has moved several to cast their hats in the ring for various county offices, events appear not to have moved to the point where consideration is being given to the selection of committee chairmen. While there are numerous prospects who could be named for either of the two major posts, in the two parties no two have been singled out as the ones on which the parties are likely to place the mantle of chairmanship for the 1932 campaign.
Neither Jacoby nor Preitman has expressed a desire to retain their present titles or to relinquish them to others.

Take Pepsin this New Way and End Indigestion

Delightful Mixture With Real Pepsin. Menthol and Other Supreme Good Stomach Aids

If you have a weak, bad acting, rebellious stomach it won't take but a couple of weeks to turn it into a strong, healthy one, capable of digesting the heaviest meal without after distress.

Your stomach needs pepsin—needs it three times a day at every meal and the stomach remedy that you need is Dore's Menthia Pepsin. It will do you more good in two weeks than all the old time remedies will do in a lifetime.

That's just the reason that its sales in good drug stores all over America are enormous—that's why Bradley's Drug Store is selling dozens of bottles every week.

Stop that acute indigestion in a few minutes with just one tablespoonful of this grand stomach regulator.

Take it regularly for two weeks and you'll learn the secret of how to always have and keep a strong healthy stomach.—Adv.

MOVIES USED TO SELL MARION REAL ESTATE

Novel Plan Adopted by New Realty Partnership Formed Here

Coincident with the formation of a new local real estate brokerage firm here comes the introduction of a new method of promoting real estate and home sales. Both will be in operation here this week.

Announcement was made today of the formation of the partnership of Dwyer & Kirtz, who will occupy in the real estate brokerage business in this city. Offices for the partnership have not yet been selected, and the present will be located in the homes of the partners, Pat Dwyer at 215 Thew av., and Owen C. Kirtz, 227 Pearl st.

Moving pictures of prospective home sites will be shown to the possible purchaser while he lounges in the depths of an easy chair at his home. It is a plan of the members of the new partnership is successful. A compact machine to project moving pictures without the usual assembling of intricate machinery has been purchased by the firm, with an eye to showing its customers a hundred sites in a few moments, and then let them decide which three or four are most preferable. From then on, it is a matter of salesmanship.

The pictures will not only give a clear view of the home, but will show "above" of the neighborhood, nearby schools or churches, and, in fact, anything that would be of interest to the purchaser.

A short prelude of some odd 200 feet of film will be shown, picturing Marion factories, and furnish general information about the city, all of which go to prove to the customer that it is to his advantage to buy a home in Marion.

Kirtz has been associated with the Marion Dwyer Co. for the last seven years, recently as secretary. Dwyer was formerly engaged in the real estate business here, and for some time was associated with H. A. Ammann, local real estate dealer.

OLDSMOBILE offers IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS

- but not one change in fundamentals that made this car so popular..

Oldsmobile announces improvements and refinements which add definitely to Oldsmobile's beauty, comfort, interior luxury, and increased driving satisfaction. The sum of these advancements is substantially increased value—an even finer car of low price.

In no case have changes been made for the sake of change alone. Every improvement serves a particular purpose—actually adds some desirable advantage to the car.

The bulk of the improvements are in the body. Refinements in body contours result in smarter style and longer, lower, appearance. Interiors are roomier and more luxurious, with deeper seat cushions. Chassis refinements include improved, fully enclosed 4-wheel brakes, more responsive steering and improved carburetion.

If you expect to buy a car this year, you owe it to yourself to see Oldsmobile—to drive it yourself—in order that you may make comparisons and form an accurate opinion of its value. You incur no obligation. Come in—soon.

Maurice Chevalier, Rogue That He Is, Marries the Queen, but He's Not Content To Be Just Her Husband So Complications Come Fast and Furious

SEVERAL months ago Maurice Chevalier—and it's SHAVALL, YELL—came to town in his first picture, "Innocents of Paris." And one had the idea that he could grow on you, that you'd like to see him again.

That idea isn't dissipated, by any means, when one sees the Frenchman in the current "The Love Parade" at the Palace.

This "The Love Parade" is a picture that combines comedy and satire, plus the songs that Mr. Chevalier must have. It's been fast-paced, except where the music slows down the action, it's a bit racy in spots—but most of all it reveals the star as an eye-opening lover de luxe, it's real entertainment.

YOU'VE heard about the cat that dared look at the queen? Well, Swiftest, Easiest Way to End Bilious Spell

When you neglect those first symptoms of constipation—bad breath, coated tongue, listlessness, the whole system soon suffers. Appetite lags. Digestion slows up. You become headachy, dizzy, bilious.

It's easy to correct sluggish bowel action! Take a easy Cascaret tonight. See how quickly—and pleasantly—the bowels are activated. All the souring waste is gently propelled from the system. Regular and complete bowel action is restored.

Cascarets are made from pure cascar, a substance which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles. All drug stores have Cascarets. 10c.—Adv.

Chevalier is a glorious rogue

And when he talks that long jaw and wide lip and big mouth of his first series, one on which Jeanette MacDonald is the queen—this is her first picture, one learns. She is pretty, there's a certain winsomeness about her and she sings pleasantly. And she admits that there is only one leg in all of Sylvia's as pretty as her left one—and that's her right one.

Lupino Lane and Lillian Roth furnish the comedy relief for the songs in which Chevalier is most serious.

The songs have been heard over the radio for some time—there's "Dreams of Love," "The Love Parade" and "Let's Be Content."

Ernst Lubitsch is responsible for the clever and fascinating direction.

Phillips Milk of Magnesia

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sourbelching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colic, children's diseases.

A responsible Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a dozen other laxatives.

You ARE PAYING FOR A PACKARD

Why not own one?

If you are driving a car similar in size to the Packard Standard Eight —but lower in price, even by half —then you are paying the costs of Packard transportation.

And without enjoying the advantages of Packard performance, Packard comfort, beauty and distinction.

A surprising statement! Yes. But the conservative statement of a conservative company.

It all reduces to this:

Because first cost is lower it does not follow that operation and maintenance costs are lower. They are virtually the same for the Packard Standard Eight and any car down to half its price.

And even if first cost is twice as much for the Packard Standard Eight, final cost is no greater if the Packard is kept twice as long. And it generally is.

You will want to keep your Packard, too. Its characteristic beauty of design is not depreciated from year to year by frequent and radical changes. Its motor and chassis are protected by automatic lubrication, insuring long and trouble-free life.

Let us work out the exact figures with you—comparing costs of the car you are now driving with costs of the distinguished Packard Standard Eight.

Then let us appraise your present car. If it is of average value it will make or exceed the down payment on your new Standard Eight. The remainder may be arranged in convenient monthly payments, if you prefer.

cipitated the World War which caused the Defect in Our Prison System.

Former Governor Frank O. Lowdon, chairman of the National Crime commission, has just made public the report on the commission's sub-committee on pardons, paroles, probation, penal laws and institutional correction in which the urgent need of improvement in the personnel of prisons and jails is stressed. "The solution of the crime problem," says the former governor in a foreword, "depends upon many factors, not the least of which, we believe, is the problem of personnel."

The sub-committee, following a year's survey of the qualifications and character of prison guards throughout the country under the direction of Professor Louis N. Robinson, of Swarthmore college, an authority on prison administration, contends that prison administration advance can be brought about only through acceptance of the business principle of hiring only the best available men and developing an experienced personnel by a system of promotion. The sub-committee holds that this development has lagged far behind other prison reforms, largely because the public has not been aroused to the necessity of building up competent prison and jail staffs.

With a few exceptions, such as that in the Eastern penitentiary of Pennsylvania, which pays the warden $12,000, prison staffs are too poorly paid to attract capable men.
Many cases of exceptionally poor pay are cited, among them being the pay of $600 with a $10 monthly food allowance for prison guards in New Mexico; New Hampshire, which pays $750 without lodging or food allowance; Rhode Island, $900 to $1,040, and Wyoming, $810 to $1,050 with lodging and food allowance. South Dakota, the report states, pays her state prison warden $2,000 with quarters and maintenance and Idaho pays her warden but $1,800.

Holding that such low salaries attract only low-caliber men, the sub-committee report makes the very significant statement that the guards are ill chosen and inadequately trained as the majority "have been given their positions in return for some political service."

The report closes with the recommendation that small loan bureaus be established to allow the payment of fines in installments, thus "relieving the unjust burden on the poor and also relieving the local authorities from supporting hordes of idle people in the jails who can not pay their fines in a lump sum."

The report is very much in line with the observations of John W. Sacco, former warden of the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, who writes in a current issue of a magazine on the same subject, so far as it refers to prison personnel, but he holds that the major evils are poor food, overcrowding, unemployment and the parole system, indicating the shameful abuse of the parole system to prepare the testimony of prisoners subject to parole to accomplish the convictions of alleged offenders against the law. In fact, if his charges are well founded, this abuse is so unfair, so unjust, so contrary to law and justice, as to constitute a disgrace to the land.

Babe Ruth Holds Out for $85,000.

Press dispatches a day or two ago stated that Babe Ruth is still holding out for $85, 000 for his services during this year's ball season. As a matter of fact, the Babe's demand is somewhat stronger than that. He is holding out for a three-year contract calling for $25,000 a year, and he says that he would rather not play ball than accept less.
Babe's attitude is that one of high artistic talent can not afford to belittle it by accepting a mere pittance for his services.

Eighty-five thousand dollars—a lot of money, especially for approximately six months' services. It's $10,000 more than Harbert Hoover receives as president of the United States, $70,000 more than Andrew W. Mellon receives as secretary of the treasury and $44,500 more than Charles E.
Huebsch draws as chief justice of the United States supreme court. It is very probably safe to say that not more than one in every 10,000 inhabitants of the earth accumulates $25,000 in a lifetime. Yet Babe wants that for six months' services.

And the diamond's champion slugger is not alone in demanding a staggering salary.
Some of the movie stars demand and get as much. If we are to credit the income tax returns, some of them get even more; a few far more. And the list goes still further.
No matter what the present situation may be, some of our heavyweights have drawn, under agreement, two, three, four and even five times as much for one limited-round "boxing" match.

They can not be blamed for taking such prize money, but the public can be blamed for paying it. For the public, directly or indirectly, pays it, not the baseball managements, the movie producers or the fight promoters. None of the last three classes could exist for one season and pay their performers what they do without the assistance of the public, the chief supporting element of the public being the newspapers of the land.
Were baseball managements, movie producers or fight and wrestling promoters to pay for the newspaper publicity they receive, they would speedily go bankrupt. And the newspapers give them the publicity they do, possibly far more than is really necessary to meet the demand, because of a demand for it on the part of the public.

And were the direct monetary cost to the public alone to be considered, the situation would be less harmful than it is, but the real menace is the psychological effect upon the public. It gives them a false idea of values, a false idea of the importance of the things of life which really count.

As a matter of fact, getting back to our sports, there is another count to be returned against them. Those to which we give the burden of our attention and the major portion of our patronage, are not those which benefit the public generally. They are the sports of the highly-trained few, while the great, untrained multitude looks on. The greatest value to be had from our sports, our athletic games—baseball, football, basketball, boxing, wrestling—is lost. They develop the few; the masses go undeveloped physically.

Latvian and Estonian shipwreckers are refusing to enter the employment of soviet Russia and captain the thirty-five steamers released in this country by the bolsheviks, and as Russians capable of navigating are few and far between, the soviet are beginning to suspect that their vessels on the Baltic are something in the nature of white elephants.
However, civilization has no occasion to weep over the matter.

A London cable says that the French delegates to the five-power naval conference have turned to Scotch whisky to overcome the chill of the London fog. All Americans who have lacked it will be as one that if it doesn't warm 'em up, nothing will.

The correspondent of a bitter anti-League American paper cables back to America that the British and United States delegates to the naval conference are only divided at finding some way of attaining accord which will not seem too raw when the American delegates have to come and give an account of their stewardship of national interests.
Are we to figure that the London conference is to be a fellow of the Washington and that we are to be done again?

What makes the naval administration so esteemed by the Islanders in the American Samoa is said to be comparison with that in the British and former German Samoa, which is by New Zealand civilians. Where a morsel to tickle the palates of those behind the movement to establish civil government in our Samoa possessions.

The executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association has uttered a protest against the iniquitous course of the senate lobby investigation committee, particularly that of its chairman, which can be justified only by the conclusion that its members are prompted by two motives—political experience and personal advertising. But what else could have been expected from them, considering where rests the responsibility for their selection?

Police Commissioner Whelan, of New York City, has proposed the banning of all parking below Sixty-First street, suggesting that garages be erected to house the 40,000 automobiles which he estimates are parked daily in the prescribed area. Why not? Certainly it can not be claimed that streets are built and maintained at great cost for parking purposes.

Riga athletes have soviet Russia considering a trade boycott on Europe and the centering of its buying in the United States. It's a decidedly open question if free people can afford to accept the patronage of a so-called government which would buy supplies and materials from them to finance the means with which to overthrow their government and take from them their liberties. This country would be better off to refuse to enter into relations of any kind with the forces of evil in control of Russia.

HEAVY COMPETITION.

Nightmare!

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Did you ever wake up with a start, believing you had just fallen from the highway or out of the cherry tree? Such an experience is unpleasant, leaving you with an "all-over" feeling.

The physiology of sleep is still completely understood. Progress is being made in unraveling its mysteries. Only recently new theories regarding it have been advanced.

Nightmares are apt to occur only at rare intervals. Usually they may be traced to some emotional strain, or to acute indigestion. It is quite possible that dreams are influenced by the quality and quantity of blood which reaches the thought centers in the brain during sleep.

Improper eating is a common cause for dreams of all sorts. Sometimes school duties prey on the mind of a child, and if this is so, the daily work gets mixed up in the dreams. The studies should be lightened. Any other fear or worry should be removed, if possible.

An impressionable child should not be told or read exciting bedtime stories. Neither should he be treated to exciting play just before going to bed. All kinds of excitement late in the day should be avoided. It must be remembered that any intense nervous strain is liable to bring bad dreams or nightmares.

It is important that the young child should have a definite and regular bedtime hour. He should have regular meals and be kept from indigestible food.

It is a good thing to have a nervous child, one given to bad dreams, sleep near older persons in the household. I do not mean he should sleep in the same bed with somebody else. If at all possible to arrange it, every child should have a separate bed.

Once fatigue and excitement of any sort react on the sensitive nervous system of a young child, we are not doing our duty toward the growing child unless we make sure there is plenty of rest and sleep. Everything that interferes with his rest should be removed.

Adolescents very often are accompanied by bad dreams. This condition interferes with proper breathing. See your doctor and have the adenoids removed at his direction.

Nothing is better for the nerves than simple, nourishing food, plenty of fresh air and sunbathing, good physical care and mental harmony are the keys to good sleep. Watch your growing child and see that he gets all these. His later years will show the good results of early care and training in right habits of living.

Editorial Comment.

ALIEN REGISTRATION.

Representative John L. Cable, of Ohio, has introduced a bill in congress designed to stop the illegal and surreptitious entry of aliens into this country whose presence here so seriously affects the national situation of labor and unemployment.
Representative Cable is a member of the immigration committee, for whose use in the effort to stem this foreign influx Chairman Johnson, of the committee, says all present appropriations are inadequate and insufficient.

In order to enable the government more easily to ascertain the names and addresses of illegal aliens and proceed with their deportation, is the object of Representative Cable's bill.

The Ohio legislator estimates that more than a million aliens have entered the United States illegally.

This bill also most sensibly suggests the simplification of the naturalization process by making any alien who had met its requirements for five consecutive years eligible to citizenship without any previous declaration or intention.

The measure provides that any alien who should fail to register annually or otherwise did not comply with its requirements would not be eligible to citizenship until after conforming with the regulations for an additional three years.

It does not seem that any reasonable objection could be urged against this measure. It provides for a systematic checking system, has in mind the legitimate interests of American labor and the general good of society. It seems to be wholly in line with the best safeguarding immigration legislation.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

AMBASSADORIAL SWAN SONGS.

Ambassador Schurman, who represented the United States in Germany for nearly five years, sailed homeward a few hours before Sir Eric Lore, who has represented Great Britain in Washington for nearly six years, sang his "swan song" to this country, as he called it. They are both retiring from posts in which they have been exceptionally successful diplomatically and popular socially.

As he embarked on the George Washington, after a remarkable demonstration of affection and respect by both Germans and Americans in Berlin, Ambassador Schurman sent back to the president of the reich this message:

"I can not sail out of German waters without gratifying my heart's desire to give expression to the profound regard and esteem I entertain for Your Excellency and to the grateful appreciation which I shall always retain for the marked confidence and friendliness extended to me during the last five years by Your Excellency and the government of the reich, as well as by the German people, whom I have known and admired for five decades and for whom in parting I warmly wish prosperity, happiness and every good."

As the personal representative of his sovereign, whether the latter be king or people, an ambassador is admitted to the highest intellectual, social and political circles in the country to which he is accredited. The more popular he is the more extensive the associations which he finds painful to sever, when his period of service is done. The significance of Schurman's message to von Hindenburg is that it shows that his author has so lived among the German people as to inspire in them the affection whose manifestations in turn moved him to this expression of appreciation. A diplomatist's life is, among right-thinking nations, as a rule a happy one. A man who can leave it without regret has failed in his duty, which is to picture as his country and which can be performed without making friends for himself.

THE BUSY PENNY.

That humble coin, the copper cent, has a place of real importance in the business life of the nation. The mint at Philadelphia last year had the task of turning out 185,582,000 pennies, to increase the circulation to meet the demands for small change. There may be only a few articles one may purchase for a penny, but there are many thousands of articles in the purchase of which the penny is necessary. There was a time when articles for the public sold for a nickel, or many nickels, but the penny has become the leading coin in general picture as the leading coin in general picture of the articles one needs in daily life. The annual demand for more pennies shows the activities of that busy and useful coin. We have need for it each day in our purchases. It is the busiest little coin Uncle Sam has in circulation. It is used in both large and small business transactions.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Feb. 5.—Broadway offers a distinct type of worldly lady as unmistakably New Yorker as Times square. She carries the mysterious air of the slightly declassed and is seen constantly with one of the goodies and glossy gentlemen with ready arms and a gaudy limousine.

Her age is debatable—anywhere between twenty-five and forty—and her smile is like the ventriloquist's dummy—forced and mechanical. There is a certain slant to her hat, an extra red to her lips and when you pass her you are conscious of a nagging puff of exotic perfume.

Her elongated nails are lacquered the bright color of blood. She talks in mono-syllables in a voice just a shade husky. Strangely enough these are ladies with a code. They are purchasable. But only to a single buyer.
And they are as secretive as the Sphinx.

Such creatures appeal especially to the "show" type of man who is also a product of Broadway. He thrills over quailing about some one who inspires the query: "Who can that be?" Somehow he seems to feel he has become the hero of a whispering mystery.

These couples come into cafes to occupy the select tables. They are in the front rows at theaters. No one ever speaks to them or do they try to scrape up chance acquaintance. I have observed at least a dozen years after. No one I have questioned knows them.

While the ladies live hard and dangerous?
They are not of the gold digger's sisterhood.
They demand a certain income in exchange for their location, but any time the compensation becomes intolerable either may withdraw. Such liaisons, however, have often lasted for years.

Tragedies that would prostrate an entire small town for a day cause only a momentary ripple along a single block in Manhattan.
I was one of a crowd recently to see a man sway dizzily on the ledge of a twelfth story of a downtown building and topple with a sickening rush to the street. Twenty minutes later a group of messenger boys were actually skylarking on the spot where the body landed. A clerk in a corner drug store, upon inquiry, said he had "heard an ambulance" but knew nothing of the tragedy.

A bachelor on Riverside drive occupies a four-room apartment. The dining-room has only a table and a chair. The bedroom a bed and dressing table and the living room a deep cushioned leather chair and a reading lamp. There are no pictures on the wall and not a room is carpeted. "I entertain no one and I hate possessions" is the tenant's explanation. He holds a responsible accounting job.

A cozy dinner place on east Forty-Ninth street offers a homey little touch in napkins at each place evocative in old fashioned pewter napkin rings and a circular casket of conditions in the center of each table.

But I think the homiest touch of all is in a certain dentist's office. On the table in the waiting room is an old-fashioned tool-leather family photograph album.

Some joker—and I hope he acquires a royal warrant—secretly purloined our family album several years ago. The next thing I handed it to a visitor with a certain annoying pride he burst forth into gales of laughter right in my face. The original photographs had been substituted for choice pictures of monkeys, chimpanzees and jungle apes. And one autographed "To Odd from Papa" was an orange-ouang.

Speaking of monkeys, the most hilarious of all New York cards came from an artist and his wife. They were pictured, with actual reproductions of their faces, as two monkeys in a tree top. In a close huddle they were picking things out of each other's head. The caption read: "This is the kind of year we had."

attitude when you find them dining in modest tea rooms.—Copyright, 1936, McNaught Syn-

Candy Not Forbidden TO THE FAT

No need to deny yourself all good things because you are fat. Modern physicians do not advise starvation. They know the dangers of it. They know that people who are over-fat have generally an under-active gland. So they supply the factor, for lack of which too much food goes to fat.

This modern method is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. These tablets were perfected and are prepared by a famous medical laboratory. A book in each box states the formula and explains the reasons for using it.

For 22 years Marmola has held the top place in its field. Millions of boxes have been used in fighting fat. The people who gained new youth and beauty, new health and vigor, have told others. Now the results are seen everywhere. Excess fat has largely disappeared.

There is usually no cause for an abnormal figure and the danger which goes with it. If the cause is an under-active gland, Marmola is the right way to combat it. For 22 years, countless people have been learning what it does.

Go try Marmola and learn what they have learned. Read about it in this box. Do as is directed. Take four tablets a day. When you see that results are coming, go on and complete them. You owe that to your future. Start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is not will gladly order for you.
